WILDCAT'S ROAR '72

Presented By
The Yearbook Staff

Community Unit District #316
Warsaw, Illinois
Co-Editors--Rhonda Sheffler & Martha Knoche

FOREWORD

Recorded on the pages of the 1972 WILD-CAT'S ROAR are the achievements, the activities and the enjoyments which the student body and the faculty of Warsaw High School have participated in during the past school year.

We, the staff, sincerely hope that it will recall unforgettable moments and the countless experiences of you and your classmates.

TO YOU, MR. SPANGLER, WE DEDICATE THIS YEARBOOK

When we think of people who have given years of service to W.H.S. and the community, a number of people come to mind. But when we add energy, talent, enthusiasm, and good public relations, then certainly Mr. Spangler is the Mr. Charisma of the group.

If any specific talents deserve mention over the others, it probably would be his ability for searching out for W.H.S. the finest of teachers and maintaining in the entire school community as esprit de corps.

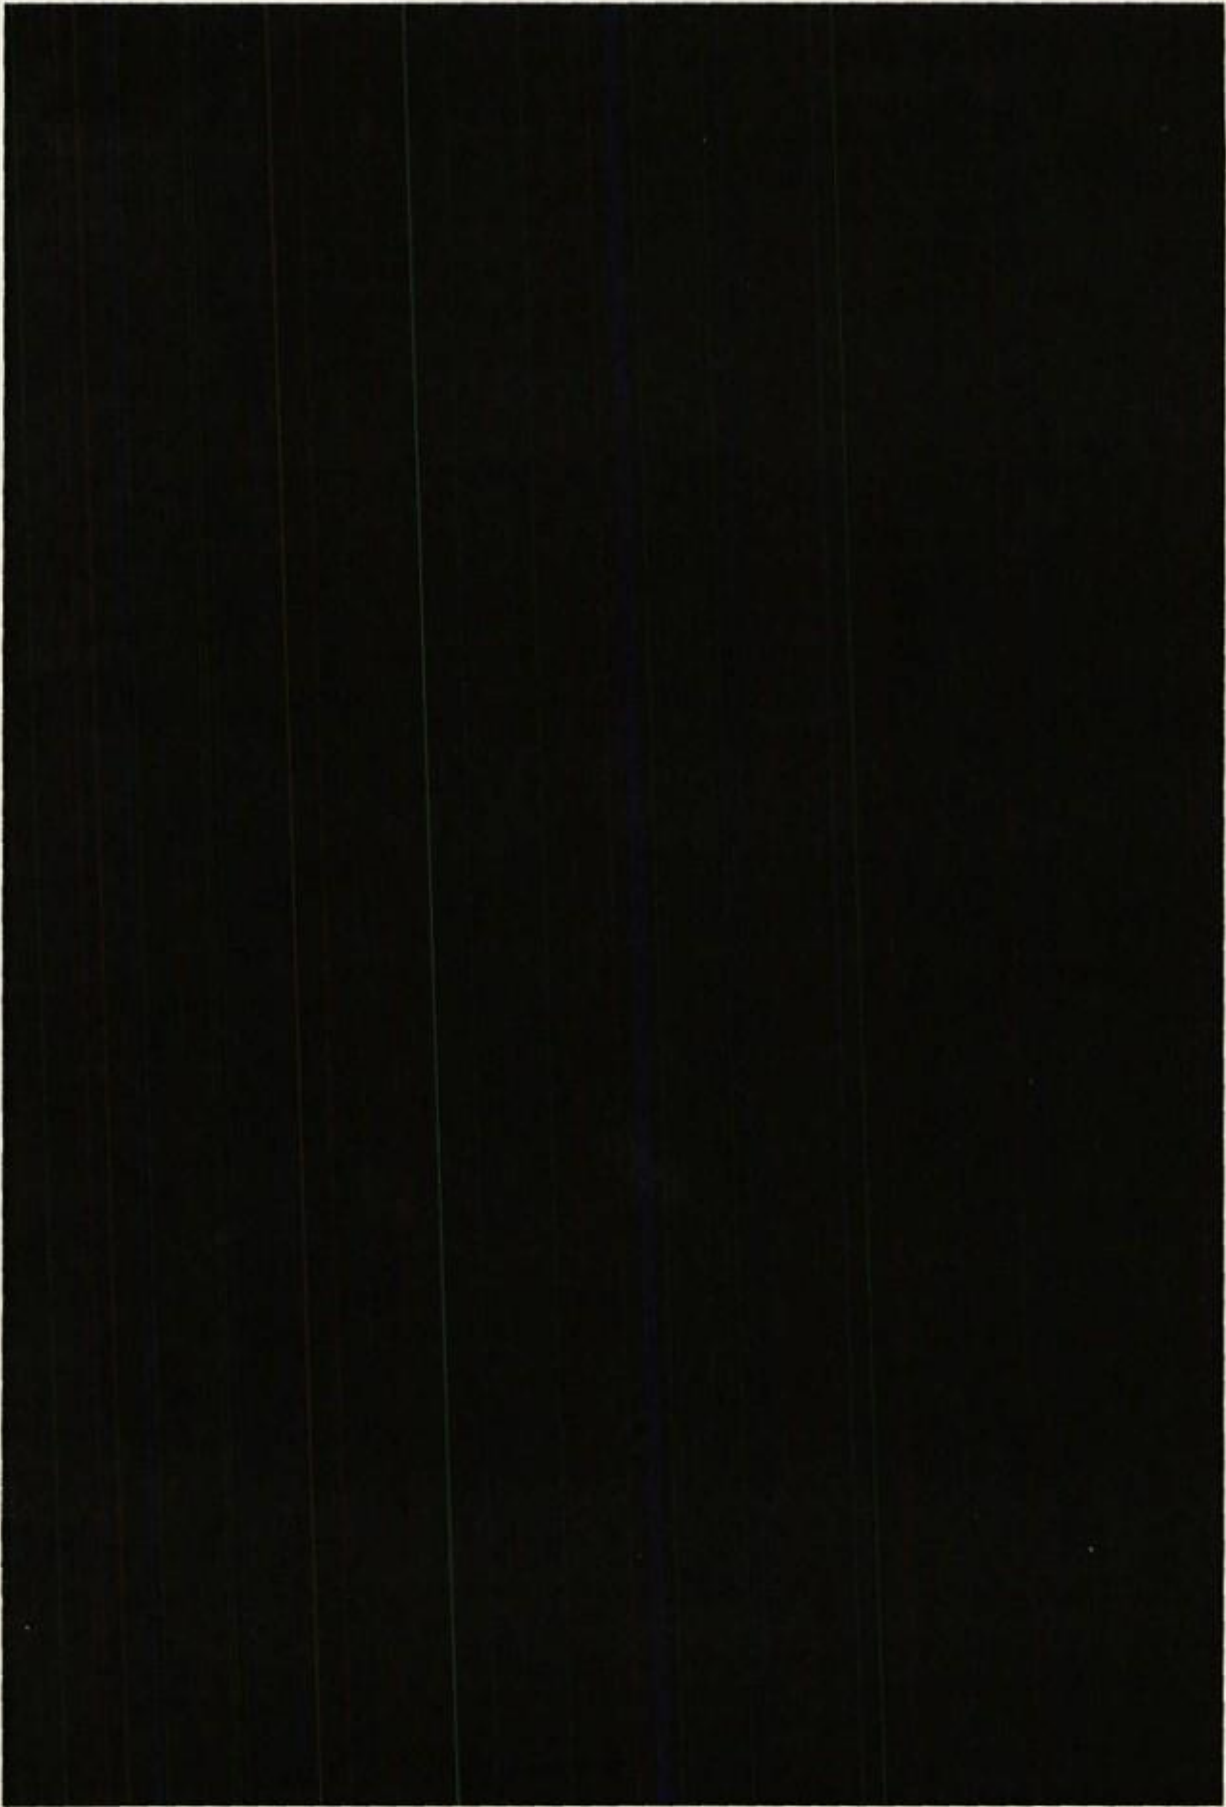

Mr. Spangler received his Bachelor's and Master's degrees from W.I.U. and has given 35 years of service to the educational community, 25 of them to the Warsaw schools. After four years in the State Office of Public Instruction in Springfield, we are happy to have him in our midst again and deem it an honor to dedicate this yearbook to him with the best of wishes for his retirement.

MARY SHORT

HER MAJESTY, WILDCAT'S ROAR QUEEN FOR 197

Chosen for this high honor by the largest number of yearbook subscriber votes for her charming personality, poise, and friendliness.

SPUNKY POINT GAZETTE

Judy types for the newspaper.

Journalism is an important part of America's communications media. The journalism course has been offered for those students who wish to learn the fundamentals of newspaper work. As a part of their study, the journalism students are responsible for publishing the school newspaper, the SPUNKY POINT GAZETTE. In addition, the staff produces a bi-weekly page, the "Kat's Korner," for the WARSAW BULLETIN.

Mary and Patty work on layout while Miss Tripp advises.

The sophmores are the only ones who work in this place.

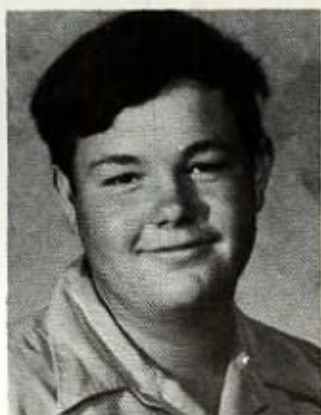

And they said it couldn't be done!

ADMINISTRATION AND FACULTY

JAMES SPRINGS

ADMINISTRATION: OUR EDUCATIONAL GUIDELINE

Within the walls of Warsaw High School, a group of dedicated people carry on a vital industry--the education of students of the district.

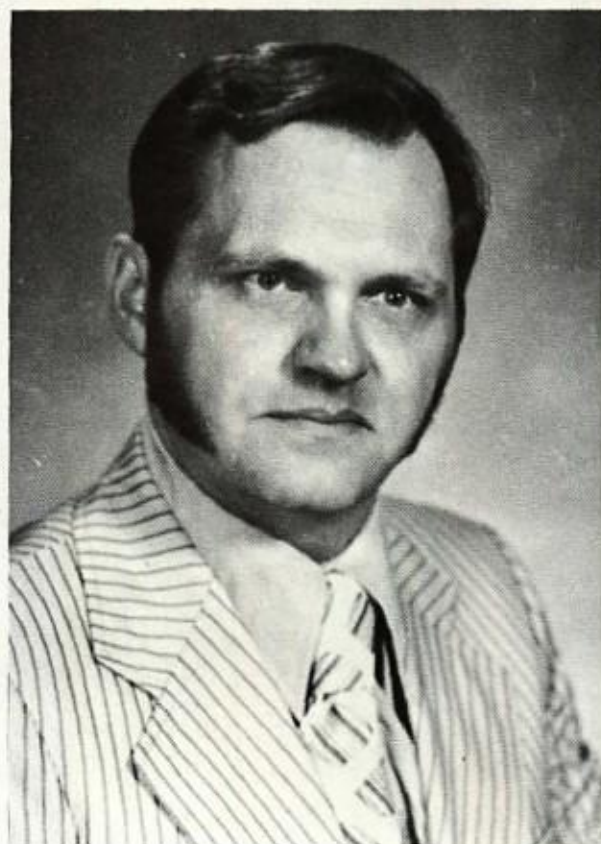

W. H. S. must be defined as its people--people who comprise the crowds which fill the halls from 7:45 every morning until long after the 3:20 bell.

Assuming primary responsibility for the general overall management and smooth operation of the school is Mr. Springs, our superintendent, whose natural skill and good judgement has led us to be proud to call him our leader.

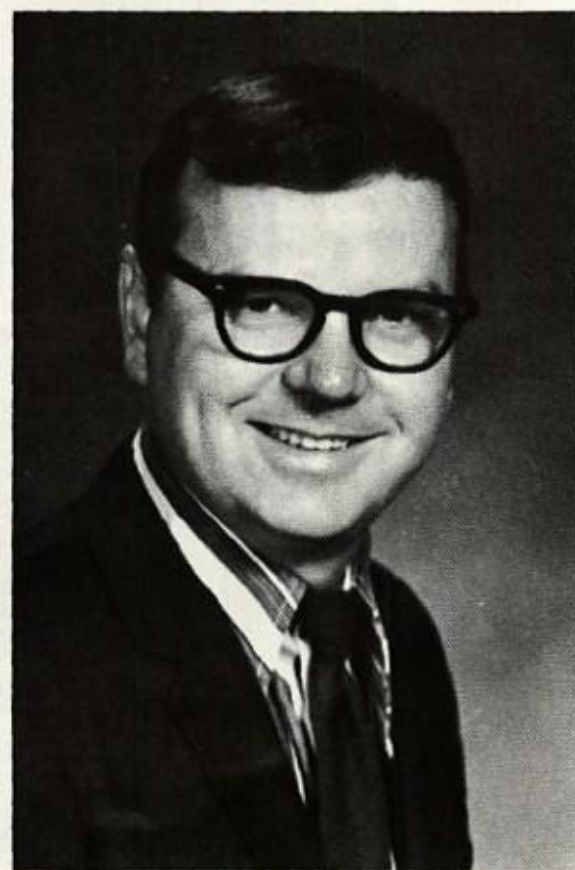

Assisting him is Mr. Barabas, now in his second year as principal, whose abilities are appreciated by all who have the privilege of working with him. The students are proud to call him "friend and advisor"

Mr. Barabas is very capably aided by Mr. Gladson, assistant principal, whose post is enforcing rules, keep attendance records, and maintaining discipline as well as many other duties.

Together these administrators complete the important job of fulfilling the school's responsibility to the parents by providing a well-rounded education for their children. They work tirelessly in their offices with many hours spent long after the students have left the building.

JERRY BARABAS

WILLIAM GLADSON

BOARD OF EDUCATION

Perhaps, not all of us agree with the Board of Education sometimes, but let us pause a moment. These men, legal officers elected by the people of our district and leading men in our community, are truly the foundation of our school. They will probably never get the thanks they truly deserve; so we, the members of the Year-book Staff, would like to express thanks for the student body of Warsaw High. Once again, thank you sincerely.

FROM THE EDITORS

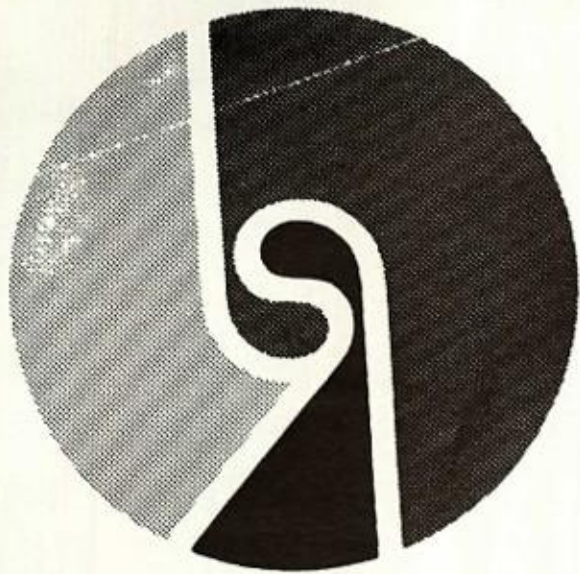

MARTHA KNOCHE

As the 1971-1972 school year comes to an end, we would like to express our deep appreciation to all the people who in some way or another made this yearbook possible. We wish to thank the staff for their cooperation and diligent efforts, to the subscribers for their support, to the advertisers for their helpful contributions, to the faculty who contributed in many ways, and to Mrs. Boone and Mrs. Courtois, who put in many long hours to help us meet our deadlines. We are also grateful to Robert Smulling Portrait Studio, Woltz Studio, and Inter-State Studio.

In our memory there will stay
Ever Warsaw High,
We will cherish from today
Our dear Warsaw High,
Though time and again apart
You will linger in each hour,
Now and ever we will be,
Alma Mater, true to thee.

We have strived to portray the activities of the past year, hoping this Wildcat's Roar will be enjoyed by all who shall look upon these pages, now and in the future. May it bring memories of all the events of 1971-1972 at Warsaw High.
